What Did You Do For Fall Break?

By: Mollie Kochel

What did you do for fall break? Did you go to your cousin's bar mitzvah? Well maybe you did or maybe you don't have a Muslim cousin. Anyway, here are what some of the kids in are school did for Fall Break.

A few of the kids in our school went to visit their families or had family visit them. Someone was attacked by oreos while they were driving back from California. Other kids in our school went to Disneyland and California Adventure. A couple of the kids in our school went to the East Coast to visit places like Central Park, Ground Zero, and Times Square. These are some of the compelling things that the kids in our school did during their fall break. However some of us can relate that we did not have the most enjoyable Fall Break. On the other hand, we didn't have to go to school. I'm sure a few of us had to do yard work or clean. Numerous of us probably slept in and went to bed very late. Other people went fishing at Sand Hollow.

Yet, we all hopefully had a good fall break and are ready for the second quarter.

The Fall Orchestra Concert is Today!

By: Olivia Ruesch

When people think of orchestra, they think it's all about classical music. However, orchestras can play anything. From pop to classical, from rock to folk. Orchestras and bands can also play pieces of music together but not usually in middle and high school.

This evening at 7 pm, there is going to be a concert. It is going to be at Hurricane Middle School. It is an 8th and 9th grade concert.

The 8th graders orchestra will be playing the songs Gauntlet, Disney Classics, The Conquerors, and Rosin Eating Zombies From Outerspace. The 9th graders are playing Ancient Ritual Arabian Dreams and Ghosts of the Taman Negara . Come watch your friends or family members!

Not everyone knows what instruments are in an orchestra.

The main instrument that everyone knows and most people play are violins. Another instrument you can find is called the viola. It looks like a violin but sounds deeper and has a different string. Next is a cello. It has the same strings as the viola but it is a lot bigger. Lastly there is the bass. It is the biggest instrument in an orchestra. All of the instruments are called the string instruments. This is because they have strings on them. Those are all the instruments in an orchestra.

What are you going to be for Halloween?

By. Sariah Nelson

Halloween is a time where you can dress up. You can be whatever you want to be for a day, ranging from terrifying clowns and zombies to fairytale princesses and mermaids. It's all up to you. Some people have already planned out their costumes and some are still deciding, but that is what makes it fun. A student from Hurricane Middle School states,

"I am being a sun goddess because my siblings and I do a theme every year, this year is Egyptian theme."

This is very cute, being a sun goddess sounds amazing and doing it with your family makes it even better. This student has it all figured out. Have a fun time with your family this Halloween.

Others prefer more scary costumes and designs. Another student adds,

"A Bloody Nurse, because I want to be something scary and bloody this year and I've never been a nurse."

That sounds like a lot of fun! Being scary can be exciting. You can scare other people and if you don't want to be a princess or something along those lines, you can always revert back to classic. Scary is the main theme of Halloween. Have fun in that spooky costume!

If you don't want to be either scary or fairytale you can always dress up as your favorite character, whether from a movie or book. One more pupil explains,

"I am being Mike Wazoski, because I really love Pixar Movies and I love the movie Monsters University."

Monster Inc is a pretty cool movie, not gonna lie. That is going to be a blast! Wish you the best of luck trick or treating.

Several teens may dress up to match or be part of another group when going to a party or to go trick or treating. Lillian Welsh (9th grader) reveals,

"A park ranger. (There's a whip involved, so maybe it's Indiana Jones?). My little brother bought an ape costume, and I wanted to match with him."

Indiana Jones is a good movie. Matching with your little brother is sweet. Imagine how good of a time you'll have. Wish you all the fun in the world.

If you don't have it figured out yet, don't worry you still have time. And if you don't want to dress up at all that's good too. Nobody is forced to dress up on Halloween. Deciding what to wear takes time and creativity, everybody's costumes will be fantastic! I can't wait to see what you all have chosen to be and dress up as. I hope you all have a fantastic year this Halloween. Stay safe, eat candy, and most importantly have FUN!

What Is Red Ribbon Week?

By: Izabella Hoover

Red Ribbon week is an alcohol, tobacco and other drug and violence prevention awareness campaign. This week in HMS red ribbon week consists of Monday- neon day, Tuesday- twin day, Wednesday- crazy socks day, Thursday- Jersey day, Friday- black out day. For neon day we wear bright colors there is a saying,

"we are too bright to do drugs". For twin day the students are encouraged to pair up against drugs. They wore crazy socks to raise awareness to not do drugs. For jersey day they decided long ago that the purpose is to raise awareness of the killing and destruction caused by drugs in America. The last day of Red Ribbon week is blackout day, to essentially black out drugs and to make sure young teens say no to drugs.

What Is the Favorite Book of HMS Students?

By: Aspen Higgins

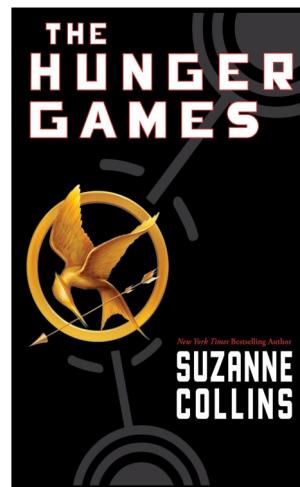

What is HMS's favorite book? Students were questioned individually and I am going to put them as anonymous for now since I don't have permission to name them. "My favorite book is The Hunger Games by Susan Collins" says one student. Students mostly like to read fantasy books because it sparks their imagination and keeps them interested. Books aren't seen as homework but can be seen as a personal room to escape from the world. Being able to have an imagination is key to childhood. Imagination keeps us active in life.

Another student said that they like the "Big Nate" graphic novels. So not all students like to read the big long books, some like to read comics like Big Nate, Calvin and Hobbes, or even the Manga series.

Scientists have proven that students that like to read, get better grades than other students that don't read as much. Scientists have encouraged teachers to tell their students to read at least 30 minutes a day. But, reading isn't just for education, it can be for fun too. Lots of students at HMS read books for fun. Some of the series that I have been told are Wings of Fire, Harry Potter, and the I Survived books.

Teachers and parents are wondering whether kids are actually reading or they are too busy on their phones to read. Kids should try reading every once in a while. It is very fun coming from a person who loves to read. Students, try reading at least once a week or just go to the library for a few hours without your phone or any technology and try to read a book.

Try Out Scouting with Troop #1681

By: Corban Beutler

Have you previously enjoyed your BSA adventure? Do you need to complete a rank advancement or finish an Eagle Scout Award? Continue the FUN and ADVENTURE! Continue to experience the BSA's character, citizenship, fitness, and leadership outcomes with your family. Youth, boys and girls, ages 5-17, and adults, who would like to be able to continue (or start) in the program can do so with our Pack or Troop. Both are sponsored by the Hurricane Rotary Club, and meet weekly at the Hurricane Recreation Center, 63 S. 100 W. on Wednesday nights from 5:30 to 7. The Troop goes camping monthly, and plays dodgeball every 4th Wednesday of the month. Feel free to drop in, visit, or inquire about details. For questions, contact Charlie Twiss @ 435-216-2623.
