Christmas Traditions

By Corban Beutler

Every family has something that they do every Christmas. Maybe it's baking cookies on Christmas Eve, or it might be reenacting the nativity with family members. Many students spend Christmas Eve making special meals for the holiday celebration. Whatever it might be, it is something that allows you and your family members to bond through having fun and spending time together.

A survey of HMS students showed that the majority of the students spend Christmas Eve partying and watching movies with their families and having snacks. Traditions ranging from scary movies on Christmas Eve, to Christmas PJs, to simply going to see Christmas lights, are all unique and special in their own way, making the holiday season altogether better.

Christmas Traditions don't only happen within the family. Many friend groups have their own traditions that they like doing during the holidays. Though these traditions aren't as common, they still increase friendship within friend groups. Most students enjoy movie watching, sledding, and other activities of the sort. However, the survey revealed that the majority of friend groups at Hurricane Middle spend their Christmas season giving gifts to each other, whether it's through Secret Santa operations, or a simple gift giveaway. Still, no matter the tradition, they only increase love and friendship between family and friends.

New Year's Eve Traditions

By Maddie Card

It's the new year and a lot of us here at HMS started it off with a bang! The majority of students stayed up until midnight and were ready to start off the new year. On New Year's Eve there are a lot of activities and traditions, the most common is to stay up until midnight! New Year's is a time to hang out with friends and family and to have lots of good food and drinks. There are a lot of fun and unique traditions too.

One student, Brianna Clark says that on New Years: "My family always does fireworks, games, and makes a deep fried shrimp dish."

Taylor Sanger said that this year she, "Hopped in our hot tub and drank water and soda."

Whether you have a tradition or not, New Year's is a time for celebrating. So let's all make some noise for a happy New Year!

By Lilly Zitting

"Darkness cannot drive out darkness; only light can do that. Hate cannot drive out hate; only love can do that,"-Martin Luther King Jr.

Martin Luther is a very important man in history. Martin Luther King Day is on Monday, January 17. Some of Martin Luther King's accomplishments are that he led the Montgomery Bus Boycott and the Birmingham Campaign. He was assassinated in Memphis, Tennessee at the age of 39 on April 4, 1968. Overall, Martin Luther King Jr is an inspiration and will never be forgotten.

How do you feel about your new schedule?

By Mollie Kochel

Life is always changing, and so is your school schedule. Over 90% of our students had a schedule change from first semester to second semester. Most kids had their electives switched which caused their schedule to change. A large number of students changed either out of P.E. or into P.E. Various students didn't even have a schedule change. One reason was because classes were full or they just didn't need to adjust their schedule. Overall plenty of students had to get their schedule change for one or more reasons.

So, countless students had to get a schedule change but how do they feel about this change? Well most kids didn't care too much about their schedule change. However some had different opinions. There were a handful of kids who disliked their schedule change because they either didn't like their new class or some just detested change. Others wished for a change in their schedule due to them getting bored of the schedule they had before.
